The right care for everyone

At Field House we provide person-centered care.

This means that we understand each resident's unique abilities and requirements and document them in a detailed, personalised care plan.

Our staff engage with the appropriate healthcare professionals to ensure that every resident receives the highest standard of care, while maintaining their dignity and privacy.

Our activities programme is designed to benefit all aspects of our residents' welfare. This includes physical health as well as mental well-being. Our activities are designed to be fun, purposeful, and encourage socialisation.

Our kitchen creates high-quality, nutrient-rich food from locally sourced produce.

All of this makes Field House a comfortable and homely environment to support nursing, residential, respite, dementia and palliative care.
